McDERMOTT CENTER

The Alice P. McDermott Convocation Center is located between the Gayle and Tom Benson Stadium, the Daniel Sullivan Baseball Field and the Ann Barshop Natatorium. It opened in 1989 and seats 2,000. It is named in honor of Alice P. McDermott (1920-90), who faithfully served UIW through many years of membership on the College Development Board. The Athletics Department administrative offices are located on the building's second floor.

MEDIA SERVICES

Accredited member of the news media are welcome at UIW athletic events. Please contact Zach Mason to request credentials at least 48 hours in advance for broadcast crews requiring technical assistance in set-up, and 24 hours in advance for others. Game day parking will be provided in the lots adjacent to the McDermott Center. Media arriving for non-game-day interviews are requested to stop at Visitor Information & Parking Office located at Mission Plaza (the Burr Rd. entrance). Campus parking lots are crowded during the school day and an early arrival is advised.

Coach Cunningham is usually available for interviews at noon on non-game days. Student-athletes may be available consistent with class schedules. Contact Zach Mason at least 24 hours in advance to arrange an in-person or telephone interview. Post-game interviews will be conducted after an appropriate cooling-off period. There will be no game-day access to players or coaches prior to the game.

FRESHMEN FRENZY

Two Cardinals are among the top-6 scorers in the SLC among freshman - Keaston Willis is second with 12.7 PPG and Drew Lutz is sixth with 10.9 PPG. Vincent Miskiewicz leads all freshmen in the conference in rebounds per game (7.9) and is third in the SLC in blocks per game (1.0) by a freshman.

BALENTINE'S DAY

Redshirt junior guard Des Balentine is enjoying his best stretch of the season, averaging 13 points, five rebounds and 2.5 assists over the last two games.

THREE-STON WILLIS

Willis has put together an impressive run over the last couple of weeks, averaging 16 points, 2.8 rebounds and 3.3 3-pointers made per game over the last four contests.

DEFENDING THE NEST

In UIW's four home wins this season, the Cardinals are outscoring opponents by an average of 80.8-59.8.

SCOUTING THE OPPOSITION

- Last year's regular season SLC champions, Sam Houston State is off to another strong start in conference play with an 8-3 record to go with its 15-7 overall mark.
- The Bearkats won four consecutive games before losing their most recent matchup against SFA, 81-76, on Saturday.
- Bearkats coach Jason Hooten has led the team to five 20-win seasons over the last six years.
- Teams have struggled to shoot the ball efficiently against the Bearkats, who have limited opponents to 40.8 percent shooting from the field and 31.7 percent from beyond the arc - good for second and fourth in the conference, respectively.
- Sam Houston State is the best free-throw shooting team in the conference, converting 76.8 percent of its foul shots on the season.
- The Bearkats have two players averaging 14 or more points per game, with Kai Mitchell leading the team with 14.7 and Zach Nutall averaging 14.0.

ZACH TAYLOR

Graduate Manager

In 2018-19, the Cardinals made huge strides in the classroom under the direction of first-year head coach Carson Cunningham, taking a team GPA from the twos to a 3.232 (fall through summer), which is among the nation's finest team GPAs in NCAA DI men's basketball.

The team also looks poised to earn its first 1000 (the highest score possible) on the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Report (APR). This would be the first 1000 APR in program history.

In the community, the 2018-19 Cardinals completed over 250 hours of community service and it aims to complete over 275 hours in 2019-20. So far this year the team has dug fences for Habitat for Humanity, exercised with senior-living residents at The Village at Incarnate Word, visited the San Antonio Children's Hospital, and landscaped at a local garden for UIW's Meet the Mission.

While the youthful 2018-19 Cardinals didn't get the competitive results it hoped for on the court, the team did lead NCAA DI men's basketball in free throw shooting accuracy and was among the Southland Conference's leaders in effective field-goal percentage, despite enduring four season-ending injuries.

With seven freshmen, a junior college walk-on, and three players coming off of redshirt joining the squad's returners, the Incarnate Word men's basketball team is eager for the 2019-20 campaign.

WINNING, STUDYING AND SERVING

Of course, winning is a major goal. During his five years with Carroll College, Cunningham's teams recorded a 107-52 (.673) record. He reached the 100-win plateau sooner than any other coach in school history, hitting that mark in just 150 games. His teams enjoyed four consecutive winning seasons, won two Frontier Conference regular season titles, won two conference tournament championships, earned three NAIA National Tournament berths, and reached the Final Eight twice.

In 2017-18, Cunningham's last season at Carroll, he won conference coach of the year, helped guide the Fighting Saints to conference regular-season and tournament championships and to the NAIA DI tournament for the third consecutive year. Also, for the third year in a row, his team led the NAIA DI in field goal and free throw percentage. Three of his players won all-conference awards.

One year earlier, in 2016-17, on the way to their second Final Eight berth, the Saints produced an NAIAD-I first-team All-American, Zach Taylor, who is now a graduate assistant with the program. That team also generated two academic All-Americans, Imhoff and Oliver Carr, and earned a team GPA of 3.2, a top three NAIA D-I men's basketball team GPA nationally.

During their first summer under Cunningham's tutelage, UIW basketball helped build a Habitat for Humanity house for a deserving family. Several months later, they visited The Children's Hospital of San Antonio, staging a "game day" to entertain the young patients. UIW requires its undergraduates to perform 45 hours of community service prior to graduation. Cunningham's Cardinals will exceed that quota by a wide margin.

A BOILERMAKER IN THE HOOSIER STATE

Cunningham's success began in that crucible of high school basketball, Indiana, where he earned regional player of the year honors and first team all-state recognition. After graduation, he matriculated at Oregon State University, where he was the starting point guard as a true freshman, earned freshman All-America honors and broke Gary Payton's OSU freshman scoring record.

Then Cunningham came back home, joining Gene Keady's Purdue Boilermakers. He became a three-year starter and helped lead Purdue to a pair of Sweet Sixteen appearances and a spot in the Elite Eight. In his three seasons, Cunningham approached the 1000-point scoring mark, registered slightly fewer than 400 assists and had 163 rebounds. For his classroom efforts, he earned academic All-America honors twice, becoming, at that time, one of only three players to do so at Purdue.

According to Randy Roberts, a distinguished professor of history at Purdue, Cunningham saw more than basketball in his future and took advantage of everything the university offered. "This is a guy who came here to play basketball and to get an education," Roberts said. "Sometimes you see athletes who come here just to play their sport and the education is secondary. But with Carson, education was never secondary. I've never known a student to balance academics and athletics the way Carson did."

That attitude provided Cunningham with a future that included basketball but went beyond the hardwood.

PRO ATHLETE, SCHOLAR AND COACH

After earning his master's degree in history from Purdue in 2001, Cunningham spent three seasons playing professional basketball. He played for the Continental Basketball Association's Gary Steelheads and the Rockford Lightning. He also played in Estonia and Australia.

During that time, he continued to pursue graduate studies in history through Purdue. He earned his Ph.D. in American history in 2006 and soon after embarked upon a career as a history professor, taking a position at the nation's largest Catholic university, DePaul in Chicago. He was an instructor in the history department and then the department of cinema and digital media at DePaul from 2006-13.

Concurrently, for five seasons beginning in 2007-08, he coached the varsity boys basketball team at his alma mater, Andean, a Catholic high school in Merrillville, Indiana, where he guided the 59ers to 43 wins in their final 50 games.

While teaching at DePaul and coaching at Andean, Cunningham continued to pursue graduate studies. He graduated from DePaul with a Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) in 2013. He also is the author or co-author of five books.

MARRIAGE AND FAMILY

Cunningham and his wife, Christy, a former volleyball letter winner at Purdue, have six children: daughters Caroline (14), Catie Joy (9), and Mabeline Lucille (3), and sons Case (12), Indiana (7), and Bennett (1).

Kenyon Spears

ASSISTANT COACH

Kenyon Spears joined the UIW men's basketball staff as an assistant coach in June 2017.

Spears enters his 15th year of coaching Division I men's college basketball, a career that has spanned five universities in three different conferences -- the Southland, the Northeast and the Ivy League.

Before coming to UIW, Spears spent two seasons (2015-17) as an assistant coach at LIU Brooklyn. During his second year, the Blackbirds went 20-12 and 13-5 in the Northeast Conference. They beat perennial power St. Johns.

Prior, Spears served three seasons (2012-15) as the top assistant coach and the recruiting coordinator at the University of New Orleans.

Previously, during the 2011-12 season, Spears assisted at Brown University.

Before Brown, Spears coached for five years (2005-10) at Wagner College, where he was a component of the Seahawks' record-setting 23-win season in 2007-08, which set a single-season school record for winning percentage (.833).

Spears began his collegiate coaching career at his alma mater, Lamar University. He served for two seasons, 2002-04, as a graduate assistant.

As a college player, he led Lamar to a Southland Conference championship and an NCAA Division I Tournament berth as a junior. In that 2000 tournament appearance, Spears was named Chevrolet Player of the Game in a losing effort for the 16th-seeded LU Cardinals against the first-seeded Duke Blue Devils. Spears scored 19 points in that game.

Taylor Land

ASSISTANT COACH

Land came to UIW in August 2018 after a two-year term (2016-18) as an assistant coach at his alma mater, St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas.

Land has assisted in building up the academic prowess of the men's basketball program at UIW, which looks poised to earn its first 1000 (the highest score possible) on the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Report (APR). This would be the first 1000 APR in program history.

Earlier, during the 2012-13 season, Land had served as a volunteer basketball assistant coach for the Hilltoppers. He was a graduate assistant coach at UT-Pan American during the 2009-10 season and was a full-time assistant at St. Francis University of Illinois in 2013-14.

Land played professional basketball on two continents. He played for two Australian teams, the Rockingham Flames and the Mandurah Magic, and for Jonstrup Basket in Denmark.

A four-year basketball letterman for St. Edwards, Land led SEU to three Heartland Conference championships and three appearances in the NCAA Division II championship tournament. For three seasons, Land pitched for the Hilltopper baseball team.

He graduated summa cum laude with a degree in finance. In 2009, he was chosen as the St. Edward's Men's Senior Student-Athlete of the Year.

Ryne Smith
ASSISTANT COACH

Ryne Smith joined the University of the Incarnate Word men's basketball team in July 2019.

Smith has assisted in building up the academic prowess of the men's basketball program at UIW, which looks poised to earn its first 1000 (the highest score possible) on the NCAA's annual Academic Progress Report (APR). This would be the first 1000 APR in program history.

Smith comes to UIW from Miami University, where he spent three seasons as the director of basketball operations for men's basketball program. In his position, he was responsible for the general functions of the team, such as team travel, recruit scheduling, camps and as a liaison to student-athletes.

Smith was a four-year letterwinner for Purdue from 2008-12. He saw increased playing time each season, and, as a senior, he appeared in 35 games, making 32 starts. He made 89 three-point field goals, which ranked third on the Boiler-makers' single-season chart. After completing his eligibility, Smith spent the 2012-13 season as a student-assistant coach under Painter and Owens, helping put together game plans and scouting reports.

Zach Taylor
GRADUATE MANAGER

Zach Taylor attended Carroll College where he played for Dr. Cunningham. Taylor was a four-year starter and helped Carroll reach back-to-back Elite Eights at the NAIA National Tournament his junior and senior years. He finished his senior season averaging 16.6 points, 4.6 rebounds, and 3.6 assists per game and was awarded MVP of the conference as well as 1st Team All-American honors. He finished his career with 2,019 career points which ranks second all time at Carroll College.

Taylor graduated from Carroll in 2017 with a degree in Health Sciences and is currently working towards his Masters in Sports Management at UIW. He will help the team with scouting and film breakdown, individual workouts, and assist with administrative duties.

Erich Murphy
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Erich Murphy was promoted to full-time assistant as a strength and conditioning coach at UIW in June 2014. He previously served as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach during 2012-14 while earning his master's degree in kinesiology from UIW. Murphy's main coaching responsibilities include the development of training programs and administration for men's basketball, women's volleyball, men's and women's track and field. He also teaches a course in the Athletic Training Program.

Jerry Salazar
ATHLETIC TRAINER

Jerry Salazar began at UIW in August, 2014, as a Graduate Assistant Athletic Trainer primarily responsible for cover men's and women's cross country and track and field as well as assisting in other sports. He became a full time staff member in November, 2015, continuing his responsibilities over cross country and track and field.

A native San Antonian, he returns home after graduating with his bachelor's degree in athletic training from Texas A&M at Corpus Christi in May, 2014. He completed his master's of science degree in kinesiology at UIW in December, 2016.

The University of the Incarnate Word

One of the leading comprehensive universities in Texas, the University of the Incarnate Word (UIW) in San Antonio strives to educate men and women who will become concerned and enlightened citizens with values developed in a Judeo-Christian tradition. In 1881 the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word founded Incarnate Word College as a center of higher education for young women. The college was admitted to membership in the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1919 and joined the Texas Association of Colleges as a senior college in 1920. The Graduate Studies division opened 1950. Male students first attended the college's undergraduate programs in 1970. Incarnate Word College became the University of the Incarnate Word in 1996. Today, UIW is a Hispanic-Serving Institution under federal guidelines.

UIW has an enrollment of 10,389 students, an increase from 3,702 in 2000. It's the largest Catholic university in Texas and the fourth-largest private university in the state. The enrollment reflects the diversity of South Texas, as more than 60 percent of the students are from racial or ethnic minority groups. UIW is ranked No. 1 nationally among faith-based universities in the conferring of bachelor's degrees to Hispanics by the Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Magazine, and No. 6 nationally among all private, not-for-profit universities. International students comprise 14 percent of the student body, and they represent over 70 countries. Seventy-five percent of the students depend upon financial aid. A majority of the students are first-generation college attendees.

UIW offers 80 undergraduate and graduate fields of study, including the Ph.D. in Education and doctoral degrees in pharmacy (Pharm.D.), optometry (OD), nursing practice (DNP), physical therapy (DPT) and business administration (DBA). UIW is one of twenty universities in the U.S. with an optometry program while the pharmacy school is the only one in Texas at a private university. In athletics, UIW is a member of the Division I Southland Conference. UIW fielded its first football team in 2009, which plays in Benson Stadium, named after the late New Orleans Saints owner and UIW benefactor, Tom Benson.

With a student-to-faculty classroom ratio of 14:1, UIW is a wireless campus that provides students with an environment that encourages excellence in academics. As part of its international efforts, UIW has agreements for reciprocal education with 135 universities in 45 countries. It also operates academic sites in Mexico City, Mexico and Heidelberg, Germany.
